

RON HAMMOND BIO

Ron grew up in Southeast Iowa, attending the United Methodist Church, and was involved with the church youth group, and the Boy Scouts. He played trumpet and sang in the choir during high school, and learned to play guitar as a teenager.

He has played secular music, both professionally and semi-professionally, but began writing Christian music as his life's journey took on a new direction.

Ron has developed a closer relationship with God than he ever thought possible, and now feels prepared to be utilized as an instrument of the Lord's peace.

He has a deep, sincere desire to bring the Lord's 'Good News' to the world, and feels that in helping others develop a personal relationship with God; he will fulfill his mission.
