

Walk on in Freedom Ministry Info

It is many things...a challenge, a promise, a decision and a clear warning sounded to the many teens that hear this message. We realize that drugs do not discriminate. The truth is drugs do not care about age, gender or color. Walk On Ministries has developed the Walk On In Freedom program to help prevent the young people of our country from making choices that could subsequently lead to their destruction or worse...their death! After hearing Mike share his story about some of the wrong choices he made which eventually led to years of addiction, the young people are asked to make a commitment. Walk On In Freedom is a campaign to challenge them to live their lives free of alcohol and drugs. It is a contractual agreement between themselves, God, their parents and Walk On. Those willing to do so are given a certificate in which they sign along with their parents. Parents are then encouraged to frame the certificates and put them in a conspicuous place where the youths will be reminded of the promise they made. To make such an oath before their peers, families and organization makes them accountable to each other, their families and all who witness the promise they make. Our response to the Walk On In Freedom program has been overwhelming. Since it began in October of 2003, we've had over 12,000 young people make a stand and take the challenge set before them. When they step forward to make such a commitment they are standing up for God and all good things. We believe the decisions they make may change the course of their lives and the lives of others as well. We know that God has His hand upon them and He will honor this covenant. We realize all who make the promise will not keep it...it won't stop all of our young people from making wrong choices, but just one could make a difference between life and death....and that one may be yours!
